Privacy Policy

Quantum Edge Innovations LLC
Prepared 29 October 2026 | Proposed policy for business review

This policy describes the proposed handling of personal information when you visit qeinnovations.com, place an order, create an account, or contact QE Innovations. It covers our online store and related customer support.

01 Information collected

Depending on your interaction, information may include your name, email, phone number, billing and delivery addresses, order details, payment status, and messages or supporting materials you send us. Invoice, customs, or identity details may be requested where necessary for the transaction or applicable requirements.

02 Website and payment information

Technical information may include IP address, browser and device information, pages visited, and session or cookie identifiers. Payment providers process payment credentials under their own privacy notices. Please do not send full card numbers, security codes, passwords, or one-time codes by email or through support forms.

03 How information is used

Information is used to process payments and orders; arrange delivery; issue invoices; manage returns, cancellations, and warranty support; answer inquiries; maintain accounts and website functions; detect fraud; and meet applicable accounting and legal obligations. Promotional communications are subject to applicable consent and opt-out requirements.

04 Cookies and choices

The store may use cookies for cart, checkout, account sessions, preferences, and security. Any optional analytics or advertising technologies must be identified in the website cookie notice and activated only as permitted by applicable law. You can manage cookies in your browser; blocking necessary cookies may affect checkout or account functions.

05 When information is shared

Information may be shared, only as needed, with payment providers, carriers, hosting and technology providers, support providers, and professional advisers. Information may also be disclosed when legally required or necessary to investigate fraud or protect legal rights. Providers must be authorized for the relevant purpose and subject to appropriate confidentiality and data-protection arrangements.

06 Retention and international processing

Records are kept for the time needed to fulfil the purposes described here, resolve disputes, and meet applicable legal retention requirements. Unneeded information should be deleted or anonymized. International orders and service providers may involve processing in the United States or other countries; any required transfer safeguards must be applied.

07 Security

Personal information must be protected with reasonable organizational and technical safeguards appropriate to its sensitivity, including controlled access and secure handling. No online system can guarantee absolute security. Customers should protect their account credentials and promptly report suspected unauthorized activity.

08 Your privacy choices and requests

Contact clientes@qeinnovations.com to request access, correction, deletion, or other rights available under applicable law, or to withdraw marketing consent. We may verify identity before acting and retain information where legally required. Marketing opt-outs do not prevent necessary order or service messages. Additional rights and complaint channels depend on your location.

09 Children, external links, and updates

The store is intended for adult purchasers. Contact us if a child has submitted personal information so we can review its removal. External websites have their own privacy practices. Material policy changes will be reflected in the published policy and communicated where required.
